It has been demonstrated over and over again that the requirments of the sick are answered far better by the Bitters than by a majority of the miscalled remedies of the pharmacoposia. The stomach is strengthened, the liver regulated, the bowels put in proper order, the blood enriched and purified, and the nervous system rendered tranquil and vigorous by this inestimable family medicine and safeguard against disease, which is, moreover, a most agreeable and effective appetizer, and a cordial peculiarly adapted to the wints of the aged and infirm, delicate females, and convalescing patients. It is besides, immensely popular as an antidote to malaria.
